

THE BULLETIN.

OFFICE—Second Street, Opposite Caldwell's Photograph Gallery.

MAYSVILLE, THURSDAY, OCT. 9

We call the attention of our readers to an interesting letter, on the first page, headed "Important to the People of the North-west."

The Shepherdsville, Kentucky, correspondent of the Times, who is with our army, says:

The news is just received that the First Ohio Cavalry lost four full companies yesterday. They advanced too far, and the rebels closed in upon them. The officers cut their way through, and regained our lines.

The highest bounty yet heard of was given by a Philadelphia gentleman, for a substitute in the place of his son. He gave a tenant, of his, a house worth $4,500, free of all incumbrances, and the family of the substitute now occupy the property.

Gen. Prentiss has been exchanged for Brig. Gen. Price, a son of Gen. Sterling Price who has a long time been a rebel prisoner in St. Louis. Gen. Prentiss has arrived at Washington.

Miss Charlotte Cushman is at present in Paris, and speaks of returning to this country to resume the practice of her profession, having lost a considerable portion of her fortune in unsuccessful speculations.

Fremont is still a Major-General, and is drawing pay and rations as such. But that is no matter, Uncle Sam's rich. He is waiting for "something to turn up," which will make him a military dictator and overthrow the Lincoln Government.

The entire rebel force, in this State, is estimated at one hundred and fifteen thousand.

Gen. Buell's Wagon Train consists of no less than eighteen hundred Wagons.

The Richmond Whigs, says: The James River never was lower than it is now. In the neighborhood of Lynchburg persons walk across the rocks without wetting their feet.

The famous Matt Ward was shot a few days since at Helena, and the wound was pronounced mortal.

Mr. JOHN HALL, was arrested, last Monday, night, and is now confined at Camp Culbertson awaiting his trial.

An Ambulance train arrived in this city, last week, with a number of wounded soldiers, and after discharging their loads they returned to Lexington. The train is composed of eighteen Ambulances.

Gen. Geo. W. Morgan, arrived with his whole command at Greensburg, Ky., on last Friday.

Gen. Butler has ordered all person, Male and Female, above the age of eighteen, to take the oath of allegiance, by October 11th, on pain of imprisonment and confiscation of property.

Mr. THOMAS PICKET was arrested, on last Sabbath, but has been released by giving $500 bond.

A Mrs. Dobb made her appearance before the Drafting Commissioner of Polk county, Iowa, recently, with two small infants in her arms, and followed by fourteen other children of various ages and sizes. She and her children had come to plead for her husband's exemption from draft on account of physical disability. The commissioner basely suggested that her large family was not very good evidence of disability, and declined to grant her request.

Plundering Gen. Taylor's Plantation. Walton's daily Montpelier Journal contains a letter from a soldier in the 8th Vermont, dated Camp Allemands, August 29th, in which he states that on the previous Thursday, the property of Gen. Richard Taylor, a son of old General Taylor, (by whom it was bequeathed to him) was confiscated, the son being now in the rebel army. The slaves, 150 in number, were declared emancipated, while the plantation was plundered by the Union soldiers. According to the writer:

It is one of the most splendid plantations that I ever saw. There are on it seven hundred acres of sugar cane which must rot upon the ground if the government does not harvest it. I wish you could have seen the soldiers plunder this plantation. After the stock was driven off, the boys began by ordering the slaves to bring out everything there was to eat and drink. They brought out hundreds of bottles of wine, eggs, preserved figs and peaches, turkeys, chickens, and honey in any quantity.

I brought away a large camp kettle and frying pan that belonged to old General Taylor, and also many of his private papers. I have also a letter of his own handwriting, and many from Secretary Marcy—some from General Scott, and some from the traitor Floyd. I brought to camp four bottles of claret wine, Lieut. — brought away half a barrel of the best syrup from the sugar house, and a large can of honey.

The camp kettle and pans I intend to send home. They are made of heavy tin, covered with copper. I think I will send home the private papers by mail if I do not let any one have them. The camp is loaded down with plunder—all kinds of clothing, rings, watches, guns, pistols, swords, and some of General Taylor's old hats and coats, belts, swords—and in fact every old relic had been worn about the camp.

You and every one may be thankful that you are out of reach of the plundering armies. Here are whole families of women and children running in the woods—large plantations entirely deserted—nothing left except slaves too old to run away—all kinds of the best mahogany furniture broken to pieces. Nothing is respected.

BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, October 3.—The Richmond Whig of September 30 contains the following joint resolution:

Resolved, By the Congress of the Confederate States, that the Proclamation of Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States of America issued at the city of Washington, in the year 1862, wherein he declares that on the first day of January, 1863, all persons held as slaves within any State or designated part of a State, whereof the people shall be in rebellion against the United States, shall be henceforth and forever free, is leveled against the citizens of the Confederate States, and as such, is a gross violation of the usages of civilized warfare, an outrage on the rights of private property and an invitation to an atrocious servile war, and therefore should be held up to the execration of mankind, and counteracted by such severe retaliatory measures as in the judgment of the President may be best calculated to secure its withdrawal or arrest its execution.

Mr. Clark, of Missouri, moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. He was in favor of declaring every citizen of the Southern Confederacy a soldier authorized to put to death every man caught upon our soil in arms against the government.

Mr. Semmes, of Louisiana, said the resolution had not been drawn up without reflection. The question of retaliation was exclusively an Executive one—to be regulated by circumstances; but it was proper that the legislative department of the Government should express its approval of the retaliation contemplated by the resolution.

Mr. Henry, of Tennessee, said the resolution did not go far enough. He favored the passage of a law providing that, upon any attempt being made to execute the proclamation of Abraham Lincoln, we immediately hoist the black flag and proclaim a war of extermination against all invaders of our soil.

Mr. Phelan, of Mississippi, said he had always been in favor of conducting the war under the black flag. If that flag had been raised at Manassas a year ago, the war would be over now.

Mr. Yancy, of Alabama, moved a pending resolution, with the resolutions submitted by him some time since, relative to retaliation, &c., be referred to a select committee of three, and be made the special order for Wednesday next.

Mr. Burnett, of Kentucky, moved that all of said resolutions be referred to the Committee on Judiciary. Agreed to.

Beauregard, on the 24th of September, officially announced his assumption of the command of the Department of South Carolina and Georgia. He says:

"In entering upon my duties, which may involve at an early day the defense of two of the most important cities in the Confederate States against most formidable efforts of our powerful enemy, I shall rely on ardent patriotism, intelligence and unconquerable spirit of officers and men under my command. To sustain successfully, but to maintain our forts with credit to our country and our own honor, and avoid irredeemable disaster, it is essential that all should give implicit obedience to any orders emanating from superiors in authority."

The Richmond Whig says the entire rebel losses in the Manassas battles do not exceed five thousand and the losses in the engagements in Maryland range between five and seven thousand. Beyond a doubt our losses are less by one fourth than those of the enemy.

Latest from Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 6.—On Saturday the rebels inaugurated Richard Hawes as Governor of Kentucky, at Frankfort. Bragg and Humphrey Marshall made bitter anti-Union speeches. Kirby Smith was there; Buckner was expected but was not present.

At five or six in the afternoon the rebels burned the railroad bridge, whereupon all the infantry left for the South, only Scott's cavalry remaining. On Sunday at one P. M., the rebels cut one span of the bridge to the south of Frankfort, and soon thereafter Scott's cavalry departed.

The rebels took all the printing paper and ink belonging to the State Printer.

Great numbers of rebels were left at Frankfort sick, and the mortality among them has been very great.

The enemy have not obtained more than fifty recruits in Frankfort and Franklin Co. Our informant met the Federal pickets last night at Hardinsville, pressing onward to Frankfort.

At Frankfort, Barstows & Gilson were arrested three times, because they would not take Confederate scrip for goods in their store. Keepers were fined $25 per day for closing their stores. Macklin, the senior of the firm of Horn notoriety, was compelled to take Confederate scrip for large quantities of meat. John Watson & Co., manufacturers of jeans, linseys and cotton, lost a large stock. The rebels took away large quantities of edibles of various kinds, leaving provisions very scarce, and many of the necessities of life unobtainable by the citizens.

At Camp Bloomfield, eleven miles southeast of Bardonia, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Rousseau's division received orders to fill canteens, and be ready to march at a minute's notice.

Particulars of the Late Fight at Newtonia, Missouri.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., October 4.—From a private in the Sixth Kansas Cavalry, who participated in the late fight at Newtonia, we learn the following particulars:

Colonel Solomon, on Monday, learning there was a rebel force at Newtonia, thought to be 600 strong, sent about 600 troops, 175 of that number being Infantry and the balance cavalry, under command of a Major of the Ninth Wisconsin, whose name we did not learn, to drive them out. They charged into Newtonia on Tuesday morning, and found the rebels had been heavily reinforced, having a force estimated at 7,000 men and six pieces of artillery. Our men had to get out the best they could, the infantry fighting hand to hand for three-quarters of an hour. As they fell back out of town, Company H, Sixth Kansas Cavalry, about forty strong, were surrounded, but cut their way through. The Federal troops fell back three miles, followed by the rebels, when the former met reinforcements of about thirty cavalry and four pieces of artillery, making six in all, and, in turn, drove the rebels back into Newtonia. Considerable cannonading was kept up for some time between the two armies, our men now having three or four regiments. About eight our troops commenced falling back to camp for the night. The rebels followed, when our men turned on them and drove them back and held the field. The Federal loss was about 140 in killed, wounded and missing. The rebels loss is unknown. The enemy were still at Newtonia at last accounts, but will probably not remain there long, as a few days will decide who are masters in the South west.
